Bergen calls off merger with National Steel owner

By BILL WINTER
Staff writer

Although notified by shareholders this year, the proposed merger between National Intergroup Inc. and Bergen Brunswick Corp. will not occur, Bergen said last week.

NII of Pittsburgh and Nippon Kokan of Japan jointly own National Steel, whose steelmaking plants include Granite City Steel.

BERGEN CITED National's big losses in 1982 ($463 million) and 1983 ($154 million). There was a $13 million NII profit in 1984. But Bergen, a mammoth Los Angeles drug distributor, said it concluded that the outlook is still bleak for steel and aluminum businesses. An unrelated steel firm, Wheeling Pittsburgh, declared bankruptcy last week.

National Steel decided several years ago to diversify and it acquired a majority interest in several large financial services institutions, later changing the corporate name to NII to reflect its new emphasis.

The link with Bergen was another diversification move and the two firms fought hard and successfully to gain approval of a $700 million transaction, despite a proxy fight by Leucadia National Corp. of New York.

THE MERGER was expected to be completed in May but Bergen officials now say they won't proceed. Aluminum operations reduced NII's potential net 1984 income by $38 million and an expected first-quarter National Steel loss has lowered the 1985 NII earnings estimate.

Chairman Howard M. "Pete" Love, a former Granite City Steel president, said NII will post an $18 million loss for the quarter but expects to be profitable for the full year of 1985. In January-March 1984, the profit was $7 million.

NII originally hoped to earn $90 million in 1984 but its net results weakened throughout the year. There is intense worldwide competition, and steel prices are well below the level manufacturers regard as justified.

CHAIRMAN Emil Martini of Bergen said Thursday the steel business generally has excessive

Utility hike a turn off

Citizens decry 22.5 percent rate hike

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
Staff writer

The rate hike hearing in Granite City Thursday charged people up. In fact, they were hot.

"We've got some greedy people here," said Don Garrett, Madison County Board member. "And the finger points to the people of Illinois Power."

The crowd accused the power company of everything from callousness to causing fatal fires.

A whopping 22.5 percent residential increase in electric rates is proposed.

The crowd of approximately 150 people who met for the hearing at the Granite City Township Hall was the last group out of seven involved in statewide hearings by the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC).

A decision on the rate increase request is expected in early

August, but members of the crowd spoke out loudly, making their last-ditch effort a cry of unity from a people already facing too many financial burdens.

Many, perhaps, realized the purpose of the meeting was to hear testimony that will become part of the record to be considered by the ICC when it determines what rate increase, if any, the power company should be granted.

After opening statements were given by Ron Daine, the Granite City service area manager for IP, the crowd made the most of their opportunity to comment.

Daine told the crowd his power company was concerned about the effect of the increase on its customers. He said IP has tried to "hold the line" on spending while being reliable.

He added it has been more than two years since IP was given a rate increase.

Daine said increased labor costs, more poles and wires and the interest on the Clinton nuclear plant are reasons for the hike.

He said the Clinton plant will answer the need for increased service and said the plant might help bring big industry to the area, such as the GM Saturn auto manufacturing plant.

"This area is a major contender for the proposed Saturn plant," Daine said. "But if we don't have an adequate amount of electricity, we don't have a chance of getting it."

Daine also talked about IP's rates compared with those around the country.

"If you could shop around for your electric service, you would find that Illinois Power's rates, now and after the proposed increase, are among the lowest in Illinois," Daine said. "Of the 50 largest power companies in the country, 34 of them have rates higher than Illinois Power."

State Rep. Sam W. Wolf, D-Granite City, opened remarks from the floor, saying he spoke on behalf of himself and Sen. Sam Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, who was unable to attend.

"All of us... are not only concerned, but alarmed by the rapidity in which utility rates are increasing with a total disregard for the feelings and the welfare of the consumer," Wolf said.

"Most of this increase, together with the increase granted in 1983 and 1982, are to cover the costs of the nuclear plant in Clinton, Ill., which at this point is not in operation, nor

Bellcoff, Cruse urge economic progress

By BILL WINTER
Staff writer

Buoyed by confidence instilled by their long governmental experience, the next mayors of Madison and Granite City hope to lead a resurgence of constructive citizen activity and visible community progress.

Addressing the Rotary Prayer Breakfast Group on Wednesday at Charlie's Restaurant, Von Dee Cruse of Granite City said downtown revitalization is his "number one priority" and he also will devote his full time and energy to economic goals, related job growth, and a solution to costly sewer breaks.

DIVIDING HIS TIME between banking and municipal duties because the mayor's position pays only $11,000 a year, John Bellcoff of Madison told the group he will place strong reliance on city department heads.

Both voiced their intent to work closely with Carl E. Mathias, an Illinois Power Co. executive who chairs the Bi-State Development Agency, in a variety of efforts to encourage new and expanded industrial, business and commercial development.

They also pledged to cooperate with the Tri-City Regional Port, Venice, Pontoon Beach, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, the Granite City Center of Belleville Area College and the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

BELLCOFF PRAISED Madison School Supt. John Palchiff for administering a public school system without "letting the city government will seek to match the schools' record by "operating in black ink."

It is not yet clear how much impact there will be on municipal funds from recent annexations to the south of Madison and associated income and costs, he said.

Cruse said Granite City's financial outlook may be "shaky," taking into account sewer repair obligations.

ACKNOWLEDGING that they as individuals could do little, the two mayors-elect said they expect to serve everyone and are hopeful there will be a significant level of teamwork and cooperation by people of all walks of life.

Both indicated that, although some city appointees will be replaced, there will be no automatic firings; each position and its occupant will be evaluated. In the meantime, Cruse and Bellcoff are conferring with as many voters and taxpayers as possible to receive information and ideas.

Recalling that they once competed against each other in men's softball leagues, Bellcoff said he will work harmoniously with Cruse in projects

Corporations enjoying free tax ride, gifts

WASHINGTON — Some of the nation's richest corporations not only get a free ride at income-tax time, but are given fat "bon voyage" gifts by the federal government as they climb on the average tax-payers' backs.

Our associate Corky Johnson checked the tax status of several companies against the multimillion-dollar grants they got from the federally funded U.S. Synthetic Fuels Corp. The grants are to encourage development of alternative energy sources to lessen dependence on imported oil. And though nothing has panned out yet, Synfuels is not downhearted. It still has about $8 billion to give away, and appears determined to get rid of every last penny.

Some of the recipients of the Synfuels largesse already have a pretty good deal going with Uncle Sam. Thanks to congressionally approved tax breaks, they have not only paid no income taxes at all, but have actually received rebates or tax credits in the millions of dollars. It's all perfectly legal, but it does produce some bizarre examples of corporate welfare, like these:

General Electric: President Reagan's former employer was recently indicted for fraud on defense contracts, but Synfuels has no qualms about GE. As part of a consortium building a coal-gasification plant in California, GE will share in $120 million of Synfuels funding. A GE subsidiary, Ladd Petroleum will get up to $100 million for another synthetic-fuel plant in that state. And the directors of a GE project in Detroit will ask for Synfuels funding later this year, as well as $270 million from the Energy Department.

In 1981-1983, GE paid no income taxes on its combined profits of $6.5 billion. In fact, it got $283 million in tax rebates for those three years. A company spokesman said GE did pay income taxes for 1984: $185 million.

Dow Chemical: This Fortune-500 welfare client has been guaranteed $620 million for the fuel it is trying to develop in Louisiana. Although Dow made $776 million in profits in 1981-1983, its $223 million in tax refunds gave it a "negative tax rate" of 28 percent.

Tenneco: Although the General Accounting Office has concluded that the Great Plains gasification plant in North Dakota could do without federal help, Synfuels has insisted on giving it $790 million in subsidies. Tenneco owns 30 percent of the project. The company will also share in $2.2 billion worth of Synfuels loan-and-price-guarantees to produce oil from Colorado coal shale.

In 1981-1983 Tenneco made $2.6 billion in profits, paid no income taxes, and collected $189 million in tax benefits.

In what is becoming something of a tradition on Capitol Hill, legislation has been introduced again this year to kill Synfuels outright. But it has powerful friends in Congress, and the best that can be hoped for is probably another compromise, like the one last year cutting $5.4 billion off the corporation's budget.

MORE TAX TALES: The Reagan administration has asked for 7,500 additional examiners in the Internal Revenue Service over the next three years, estimating that they will be able to squeeze out $2.6 billion in lost taxes by 1989. Then, instead of leveling off or declining — as taxpayers learn the risks of cheating — the budget proposal estimates additional revenue at $2.8 billion in 1990.

Where did the sudden increase come from? The budget experts forgot to include the $300 million annual cost of the 7,500 examiners, as they had in the 1988 estimate.

The Internal Revenue Service doesn't trust anyone. The taxmen are planning to retain a private firm to monitor radio stations across the country to make sure they run Internal Revenue announcements as they claim. Unlike regular commercials, the IRS announcements are aired free. But broadcasting such public-service announcements is part of a station's licensing obligation, so the IRS wants to make sure no station is cheating on its promise.

SHEIK SHORTS: A new phenomenon has appeared in Saudi Arabia: the American-style workaholic. It's a radical departure from the old days when, as a State Department report observes, the hard work was left to foreigners and a Saudi could make money just by getting up in the morning.

The new Saudi strivers appear to be suffering from all the symptoms of their American role models. There are a "higher incidence of heart attacks, hypertension and...the other side effects of Western progress...and Western-style press of business."

THEY SAY IF AN MX COMES OUT OF THE GROUND AND SEES ITS SHADOW...WE'LL HAVE TEN MORE YEARS OF NUCLEAR WINTER

Just another nasty Soviet ploy?

I had no objection to President Reagan turning down Mikhail Gorbachev's suggestion that the West join the Soviets in a freeze on medium-range nuclear weapons. What did bother me was the haste in which it was done.

The words were hardly out of Gorbachev's mouth when the Western White House rejected it as a dirty commie trick. One got the impression the Reagan administration was more furious with the freeze than if the Soviet premier had announced he was going to double the number of SS-20s on the Soviet border.

There is no question in my mind that Mikhail was making a grandstand play for the benefit of the NATO countries.

Yet if disarmament is a game — and everyone knows it is — it would have been much better for our side if Mr. Reagan did not react so predictably.

Had the president responded immediately that he was "very interested" in the Gorbachev proposal and wanted to "fine-tune" it, this is what probably would have happened in the Kremlin.

Art Buchwald

"Comrade Number One — this just in from Santa Barbara. President Reagan thinks your offer to freeze the SS-20s is a very generous one and he is glad you put it on the table."

"What are you saying, Marshal Potemkin? If Reagan likes my plan there must be something wrong with it." "Our intelligence people have come to some conclusion. They are perplexed that Reagan would jump at it so fast. Our scenario was that the president would dismiss your proposal and attack him for wanting to keep the arms race going, thereby winning the hearts and minds of the West European population."

"I'm aware of what our scenario was, Marshal. What I want to know is why Reagan is in favor of it."

"Our people now have theory that there are a lot more Pershing missiles in Europe than the United States will admit to, and if the Americans agreed to a freeze at this time it would give them an 8-to-1 advantage over us."

"Now you tell me. Why didn't you know this before I made an offer to freeze our missiles?"

"Our KGB people in Washington assured us that the White House would denounce your offer because it would endanger their request for an increased military budget. The fact the president didn't can only mean we've underestimated number of nuclear weapons United States has aimed at us. It shows you why we can't trust the Americans. They're always crying they are behind in missiles — when the true fact is they are ahead."

"What do I do if Reagan agrees to freeze his weapons? Should I say our freeze is off?"

"No, Comrade Number One. That would make it appear we believe the Americans are stronger than we are. What you must do is to improve on your offer of a freeze by making a unilateral reduction in weapons. This will scare the West. They will be certain the only reason we're doing it is that we have so many missiles we can afford to reduce our nuclear arsenal without endangering our defense. Reagan will have to publicly say it's a trap and denounce us for it. And then we'll be known in Western Europe as the peacemakers."

"That's what you said before my freeze speech. Suppose he doesn't denounce me and says he's glad to see my offer on the table? How long do I have to keep disarming Mother Russia to show how strong we really are?"

"Until Reagan cries 'Uncle.'"

U.S. and Soviet experts no better than average

When the Soviet leadership changed hands recently, you were treated to the published opinions of an assortment of so-called "experts" on Soviet-American relations.

Almost nothing of significance happens relating to any of the several professional disciplines but what the media seeks but the opinions of "experts" on Soviet-American relations.

Yet, repeatedly it has been demonstrated that stock market investors throwing darts at a dartboard do better in the stock market than do the "economic experts."

Apparently another word has been misapplied and overworked.

Anybody utterly lacking in academic credentials likes to remember that Einstein, though a genius in one specific science, was otherwise pretty much of a dunce.

Richard Feynman says most experts, whether in the stock market, education, sociology or psychology, don't know any more than the average American.

How dare he issue such a sweeping indictment of intellectuals? Because he is one.

Feynman is a teacher at Cal Tech, a theoretical physicist with a Nobel Prize in physics.

In a new book called "Surely You're Joking, Mr. Feynman," he is not joking. He says, "People think 'experts' know what they're doing when they utter pompous words on pompous subjects" though as often as not your guess is as good as theirs.

Paul Harvey

I remember Dr. Harold Urey, physicist who supervised the Manhattan Project which developed the first atomic bomb. And I remember he said that man would never be able to land on the moon because "he would be swallowed up in an ocean of dust."

I remember Henry Kaufman, esteemed economist for Salomon Brothers, whose utterances cause wild gyrations on Wall Street, who proclaimed one year ago that "the prime will climb to 13 1/2 percent by year end." It declined instead.

Biographer Lou Cannon, a self-professed expert on Ronald Reagan, in 1982 assured us all that Reagan would "not seek re-election in '84."

Sept. 9, 1982, Vatican radio quoted a "scientific report" predicting that "World War III would break out and turn the earth into a desert overrun by mice." The "scientific report" said the start date of World War III would be June 15, 1985.

To keep the opinions of the experts in focus takes common sense and, as Prof. Feynman says, you have as much of that as anybody.

Take pride in neighborhood

To the Editor:

This morning, as I was getting ready for work, I thought, "Why do we live here? We are not bound and tied here. We are free to live anywhere we wish, so why do we stay?"

I thought of other residents and business people in Granite City. Why do they stay? Certainly not for the lucrative business. Not because it is a prestigious area.

Not for the city's beauty, healthy air, or the resort-type weather. What has attracted these people to Granite City?

The answer is love and pride. I love small towns. I was raised in a small town.

I love the smiles of friendly people. I like to go into a business that treats you friendly and knows you by name.

I like to walk through my neighborhood, stopping to chat with my neighbors without fear for my safety.

I want my children to live in a small town. I can't imagine living in a large city, lost in a sea of strange faces.

Granite City can be a good place to live and work. Like a chain, each link has to work for a common cause. We have to create a better atmosphere to keep up our morale and bring back the pride our city's founders must have had in the early 1900s.

So, love your neighborhood. Do your part to create a better way of life. We will all be proud.

More than 18 percent of the students are members of minorities, and 11 percent are non-Catholic.

Catholic high schools tend to require rigorous graduation requirements in science, math, English, history and social studies. The schools try to keep tuition costs down so that low-income students can attend.

Aldermen work for public

To all registered voters:

Do you know why you have aldermen?

I've heard that they are elected to represent the people in their wards. They are not city employees; they are employees of the people and they are paid with our tax dollars.

Do you know your alderman? Does he talk to you all the time, or just at election time? I wonder how many of them feel good when they get their pay for representing the people?

14,500 vehicles daily on McKinley Bridge

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Staff writer

Vehicular traffic using the McKinley Bridge in Venice still is increasing, according to figures reported by Bridge Manager Tom Fields to the Venice City Council last week.

A total of 452,069 vehicles was logged crossing the Mississippi River bridge during March, with a daily average of 14,582.

The daily figure represented 792 more vehicles traveling across the span than in the same period in 1984, Fields said.

In other business, the aldermen approved a building permit for Silver Franklin, 518 Washington Ave., to construct a frame garage at the dwelling.

First Ward Alderman Phillip Daniels reported learning that Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307 has been refused cable television service by South-Western Cable TV. He questioned the reason behind the decision.

Mayor Tyrone Echols said he had heard "there are a couple of problems with running wire to them," and said he would look into the matter.

It was noted by Police Chief Ferris Smith that cable television lines have now been extended to the Venice public schools, located at 700 Broadway. The Legion post is at 740 Broadway.

The clean-up, fix-up program in Venice still is ongoing, with leaders of the Neighborhood Watch Committee also spearheading this program.

Dorothy Griggs reported crews of Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts, along with some members of the watch group, participated in clean-up activities last week.

Concentrated efforts were made around all public buildings, including the city hall, recreation center and library and in Lee Park, she said.

She also expressed appreciation to the Venice Street Department for its cooperation in the clean-up project, noting that many residents moved debris from yards and basements.

The next meeting of the Neighborhood Watch group is scheduled for 10 a.m. Saturday, April 27, at the Venice Senior Citizens' Community Center, Klein and Brown streets.

Block captains are especially being urged to attend this session to provide updated reports, Griggs said.

Milton Morris, a Venice businessman, addressed the council and complimented the Venice Police Department on its "fast response to calls."

The possibility of providing smoke alarms at reduced cost to persons renting property was proposed the Rev. John Henry Williams. "You saw what happened in Madison (a fatal fire) the other night," the minister said.

"These (alarms) are life savers and very needed and I would like to encourage you to give the smoke alarms to those living in rental property."

EXPERT APPRAISING
MORRIS REALTY CO.

The minister explained he was not talking about persons living in public housing, where smoke detectors are furnished without cost to tenants, but to other types of rental property.

Under a program sponsored by the Venice Fire Department, any Venice resident may purchase a smoke alarm at cost, $8.

Free smoke detectors are available for residents 65 and older. Assistance in installing the smoke detectors also is offered senior citizens if they are unable to perform the task themselves. Proof of residency is required when an alarm is picked up.

Hooks appointed as Venice postmaster

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Staff writer

J. Richard Hooks of Edwardsville, a native of Venice, will become the new Venice postmaster. The appointment will go into effect May 11.

A letter of confirmation was received by Hooks from officials at the U. S. Postal Service's regional office in Carbondale.

Better known by local friends as "Rick," a name with which he personally identifies and prefers, the new Venice postmaster is married to the former Elizabeth "Betsy" Fields, also of Venice.

The couple has two children, Aaron, 4, and Jordan, 2.

Since 1977, Hooks has been employed as a mail carrier at the Granite City Post Office, where he has also served in a supervisory capacity.

He was born in Venice and is a 1969 graduate of Assumption High School in East St. Louis.

Hooks, 34, graduated from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville with a bachelor of science degree and later attained a master of science degree from the same school.

An associate adult advisor for Explorer Post 104, a Madison-based law enforcement post, Hooks also is active in Friends for Scouting, an areawide organization that aids Boy Scout projects.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harlin (Mildred) Hooks, reside in Venice. Prior to the appointment's effective date, an installation ceremony will take place at the Venice Post Office, it was learned.

Hooks will succeed Bill Singleton, who retired as Venice postmaster in August 1984. Since that time, Edward Heintz, a Granite City resident, has been the acting postmaster in Venice.

Biting comments by GC letter carriers as 'dog days' approach

With the approach of the "dog days of summer," Granite City Postal Officer in Charge David W. Kane has asked dog owners to help protect their pets and their letter carriers - from the literal and figurative pain of dog bites.

Kane said nearly 7,000 of the nation's letter carriers suffered bite injuries last year. Seven local carriers were bitten by dogs last year, and three dog bite cases have been reported to date this year.

"Dog bites can be disastrous," said Kane, "and that's why we're asking for cooperation from dog owners. We're hoping they will help to protect both their pets and their letter carrier."

Kane suggested that dog owners keep their pets in an area away from the mailbox and the areas used by the mail carrier for access to the property.

"If the pet is not kept behind a secure fence, then we suggest the owner restrain the dog with a leash or keep it inside during the usual hours of the carrier's delivery," he said.

The Postal Service has the right to protect its carriers by refusing to deliver mail to a household with an unrestrained dog. In cases where a dog is allowed to run loose, delivery to the entire neighborhood could be affected.

The Postal Service also provides counseling to bitten carriers wishing to seek action against the dog owners.

"Things don't have to go that far," Kane said. "We constantly alert our carriers to the problem, but the real solution to dog bites is for the owners to help us. It's the old story of an ounce of prevention being worth a pound of cure, during 'dog days' and throughout the year."

Leadership by students cited

There is leadership aplenty among Granite City High School students, school officials say, and this belief is shared by officials of the municipal government.

Meeting last week with President Jeb Blasingame and Vice President Stephanie Dill of the Student Council, and President Andy Loftus and Vice President Pam Robeff of the National Honor Society, Mayor Paul Schuler said:

"One of the clearest lessons of the past decade in America is that students want and deserve an appropriate voice in the educational systems in which they are participating."

"As we move into the third century of our republic, the mantle of responsibility and leadership will be passed on to the young people. I am convinced they will wear that mantle proudly, carrying out their responsibilities with conviction and concern for their fellow men and women and reflecting great credit on their nation."

"Administrators and teachers recognize the necessity for students to take an active part in the co-curricular activities provided by our country's secondary schools, such as the student council, speech, debate, music, journalism and vocational organizations, honor societies and other special interest groups that are so important in developing and enhancing leadership potential."

"The building of confidence," Mayor Schuler continued, "the sharing of ideas, and the experience of responsibility can best be accomplished by leadership positions in classes and activities. Such student groups offer young people early and vital experience in exercising a voice in matters of common concern, reconciling diverse views and selecting leaders to express representative conclusions."

Designating April 21-27 as Student Leadership Week, the mayor urged all academic, vocational and other institutions to join in activities highlighting, revitalizing and encouraging wider participation in their activity programs. He called on students to "fully acquaint themselves with the programs in their schools and constructively take part in leadership opportunities."

NHS advisors Mary Perdue Tapp and Andy Yurko and Student Council advisor Steve Hamilton have announced that students will wear "city officials for a day" April 23.

A National Honor Society initiation reception is set for April 24, a "Save the Statue of Liberty" school dance will take place April 26, and students will participate in a March of Dimes "American walk" April 27.

Scott Thomson, executive director, National Association of Secondary School Principals, a 34,000-member group, is stressing that "student activities go hand in hand with quality academic programs. They teach leadership and personal skills that enable youths to function successfully in our society as well-rounded individuals."

Health Fair plans completed; April 24 in Kaender's lobby

Plans are complete for St. Elizabeth Medical Center's Health Fair '85 from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Wednesday, April 24, beginning in the Kaender's Pavilion (main lobby).

It will provide at low cost to the individual, an opportunity to gather information about preventative health services, nutrition, exercise, self-examination, warning signs and early detection.

Jack Grieves, SEMC vice president and the site coordinator, said, "Not meant as a replacement for physical examinations, Health Fair '85 provides the means to receive free medical tests for such things as anemia, blood pressure, height, weight, diabetes, respiratory ailments and vision."

Two blood chemistry tests will be available again this year. The basic blood test will cost $10 and the basic test plus a coronary risk profile will cost $15.

Individuals are to fast eight hours before taking the basic plus coronary risk profile, drinking only water, plain coffee or tea, without cream or sugar. Senior citizens may drink water to avoid dehydration, and diabetes should not fast.

Madison schools await art grant

By DONNA KIMBRO

Staff writer

The Madison School District will receive a $1,000 grant for art supplies, Dolores Folkerts, curriculum director, noted at a school board meeting Thursday night.

Application for the grant was made on Oct. 30 and the district has just been notified, she added.

WADE JAMES, assistant superintendent, informed the board there will be three screening dates for three- and four-year-olds and kindergarten registration in May. The screening will take place at Blair School May 23 and at Harris School May 24 and 25.

Board members acknowledged the 20th anniversary, this month, of Chapter 1, a federal program created in 1965 for elementary and secondary schools.

Throughout the 20-year period,

Madison has participated to help economically and educationally disadvantaged children master reading and mathematics, it was related.

THE BOARD ACCEPTED the resignation of Terry Beer as a teacher and coach.

Board members approved a request from Eldon Rhoads, maintenance supervisor, to seek bids on two lawnmowers, and a proposal to begin a life safety survey of each of the school buildings.

Superintendent of Schools John Palchiff told the board that, by law, the buildings must be surveyed every 10 years.

PALCHIEFF PRESENTED a letter from the Madison County Emergency Services and Disaster Agency asking that a school be chosen as a disaster assistance site.

The board-designated Madison High School for this purpose, since it has two gymnasiums and could accommodate a large number of people.

Board approval was granted to the Madison Parents Club to hold a bicycle rodeo at Louis Baer School on Saturday, April 27, along with approval of four field trips to various locations. Permission was given for a boys' basketball banquet April 24 and to the Girls Athletic Department for its annual sports banquet May 8 at 6 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. William Ledbetter, band director, was given permission for a trip to the University of Illinois and then a day on the Eastern Illinois University campus, April 26 and 27.

A tentative calendar for the 1985-86 school year was presented. With final action to be taken at a later meeting.

If you dig digging, Cahokia Mounds may be site for you

Those looking for an unusual activity this summer are invited to participate in an archaeological field school at Cahokia Mounds, the site of mounds built here by the Cahokian Indians centuries ago.

The Cahokia Mounds Museum Society is sponsoring the school for the general public; no previous experience is necessary. Four 2-week sessions will be offered, starting June 3, June 17, July 1 and July 15.

This year the field school will be working on the Woodhenge, determining four remaining post locations so that a sun-circle calendar can be reconstructed. It will also examine any houses or pits uncovered recently.

Participants should be 16 or older and in good health. Some younger students may accompany a parent or adult. There is no upper age limit.

Instruction will be given in archaeological techniques in the field and in the laboratory, including surveying, excavation, mapping and the washing, sorting and cataloging of artifacts. All tools and equipment are provided.

The work schedule is 7 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, with mornings spent in the field and afternoons in the lab. One day of each session will be a field trip to other excavations and museums.

Tuition for the two-week period is $100 (under age 16 — $75). "Special rates" can be worked out for families and groups or those who can only attend one week. No room or board is provided, but a free camping area is available with access to restrooms and shower. There are several motels, campgrounds and restaurants nearby," a spokesman said.

For more information or to make reservations, the Cahokia Mounds Museum Society can be contacted at Box 382, Collinsville, or 344-5268.

Rate hike request draws angry responses from public will it be until the latter part of 1986. This is the same nuclear plant that was supposed to be completed in 1980 at a cost of $400 million and is now estimated to cost $315 billion."

Wolf said there is no guarantee the plant will be completed in 1986, nor is there any assurance even if it does become operational, there would be a reduction in rates.

"We have been bombarded with information that would indicate nuclear plants were a must in order to provide the power necessary to meet the demand," Wolf said. "We now find that most of these projections of demand came from the utility companies themselves and not necessarily from an unbiased committee or group."

Wolf said in 1982, a similar hearing was conducted, at which time people of all ages testified they were having considerable difficulty coping with their present utility bills. Despite that fact, a rate increase was granted, Wolf said.

The representative said he requested at that time the ICC conduct necessary audits and investigations to ensure competent utility management and supervision of energy projects and determine whether a sufficient demand exists to justify the completion of the Clinton plant.

"To my knowledge, none of these requests were acted upon and since that time, rates have continued to increase and costs have continued to zoom upward," Wolf said.

Wolf said IP doesn't appear to have a financial problem, at least as far as its stockholders are concerned.

He said IP last annual report shows IP earned a net income of $235 million in 1984 and paid a cash dividend of $165 million to its stockholders.

"It just seems like the more this project in Clinton costs, the more money the Illinois Power stockholders make — provided, however, that the construction costs are passed on to the consumer, which for the past five years, they have," Wolf said.

"This doesn't fit my idea of private enterprise. If this (Clinton) is such a worthwhile project, why aren't the stockholders of Illinois Power participating with some of their own money?"

Wolf suggested the IP stockholder forego their hefty dividends this year and next.

"I will guarantee you that we will find out what is wrong in Clinton," Wolf said.

The next speaker was Garrett, a Madison alderman.

Garrett said two fires have occurred in West Madison in the past three months, resulting in four deaths.

"Those killed included a 24-year-old woman, two children under the age of 2 and one child yet unborn," Garrett said.

He asked for a moment of silence in their behalf.

Garrett said the reason the fires occurred was because Illinois Power shut off the electricity and gas at those homes.

"It was cold," Garrett said. "And in one of the cases, the persons were heating by candle power."

"I heard him (Daine) say he is concerned. Well, I shall get three of those pamphlets (answering the most common questions asked) and lay them on the graves of those people."

"I'll tell them Illinois Power is concerned. Perhaps the deafening silence is the message they (IP) need."

Garrett compared the turning off of power by IP with the pulling of a lever on the electric chair.

"I would not want the pain and grief these kids suffered on my hands," Garrett said.

(Reached afterwards, Daine said Garrett's accusations concerning the death of the children are not based on fact. He said it was inappropriate for Garrett to accuse Illinois Power based on his own personal opinion.)

Garrett also refuted Daine's statement concerning the Saturn plant.

"Clinton was here long before they invented Saturn," Garrett said.

Garrett said the only way to stop the rates from increasing is to make the ICC elected officials.

Other comments at the meeting included:

Milton Morris, a Venice businessman, suggested the Quad-Cities band together and begin their own power company.

"We've got other ways of getting energy if we look," Morris said. "We can compete with the big power companies now because their rates are so high."

Margaret Muzzarelli, a representative of the Senior Aid Program, suggested the power company set a special rate for people who are living under the poverty guidelines.

"I want Illinois Power to have compassion for these people," Muzzarelli said. "I hope and pray Illinois Power will think twice before shutting off power to people who need it."

George Cook spoke on behalf of the Citizen's Utility Board (CUB). He said IP has had no incentive to hold the line on their expenditures because they have never been denied a rate increase.

"Enough is enough — it's time to say no," Cook said.

Paul Kraus, a senior citizen living on Social Security, said he doesn't mind a company making a profit, but he doesn't think IP should make such a large profit that it will cause him to perish.

"I could survive by moving into a one room house, but I don't choose to live that way," Kraus said. "Why should I be reduced to living like a caveman?"

Lee Thomas, a member of the Granite City Citizens Forum, talked about the increasing power rates versus a decreasing income.

"There's a pamphlet in the back on the rights and responsibilities of consumer groups, but I didn't see one on the rights and responsibilities of power companies," Thomas said.

"These people are finding ways to spend money as fast as we're making it."

Dorothy Vasileff, a member of the Senior Citizens of Madison, praised Wolf and Garrett for their comments.

"We need more people like them to fight for the senior citizens and the young people," Vasileff said. "I'm on a fixed income and I can't afford these big bills."

Celeste Puryear, a worker at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, said she also has seen the life and death situations created by the loss of electricity to a home.

She said she read a profit and loss statement of a small electric company in a local paper, which stated the company made a $4 million profit in the first quarter of the year.

"When I read that, I started wondering — something is rotten in Denmark," Puryear said.

Oliver Woolen Sr., an unemployed worker, said he Illinois Power does not really care about the people.

Q. I'm interested in making some small investments. However, I have never made investments before, and the language is rather new to me. I've been reading financial journals, and there's one term which keeps cropping up that puzzles me. Can you tell me what "government obligations" are?

A. A government obligation is, as the term implies, instruments of the United States Government public debt. These include such things as Treasury bills, U.S. Government notes and bonds as well as Retirement plan bonds. These instruments are, in fact, fully backed by the government, as opposed to U.S. Government agency securities. Although government obligations are attractive due to federal backing, you may find some equally attractive investment opportunities closer to home — backed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation — the FDIC. They're available through your bank, and your banker would be happy to tell you about them.

Before you install a new furnace, check out an electric heat pump

If you are installing a furnace, consider this: an electric heat pump is over 150% energy efficient and provides both heating and air conditioning. This means substantial savings on your utility bill, month after month, year after year.

An electric heat pump delivers much more energy efficiency than even the most advanced oil, propane or gas furnaces.

During the summer, the heat pumps act like a central air conditioning system to cool the entire house. In cold weather, the heat pump gathers the sun's warmth from outdoor air, concentrates it and circulates it throughout your home.

5 hurt in three-car accident

Five Missourians were slightly injured Friday evening in a three-vehicle accident in the 3000 block of Madison Avenue. All were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

According to reports, an auto operated by Trisha L. Barnett of Edwardsville was waiting to make a left turn from the southbound lanes of Madison Avenue into the National Food store parking lot, with a station-wagon driven by Janice F. Staszek, 54, of St. Louis, stopped behind the Barnett car.

A third vehicle traveling south, a station-wagon driven by Janice F. Pigg, 28, of 2837 Edgewood Ave., reportedly struck the Staszek wagon, pushing it into the Barnett car. Pigg, who was outside her vehicle when police arrived, was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and failing to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

She declined to take a breathalyzer test and was released at 12:10 a.m. Saturday after posting a $302 cash bond, pending a hearing.

Injured in the crash were Staszek and four passengers in his vehicle, Angelina Dimett, 57, and Anna Staszek, 48, both of St. Louis, Anna Krishnam, 71, of St. Charles, Mo., and Jackie Darden, 47, of Florissant, Mo.

AN EXAMPLE CITED was the pending link of all area cities to Granite City's regional secondary sewage treatment plant.

THE "BUILD ILLINOIS" plan devised by the state government to rebuild infrastructure facilities will receive close attention from them due to the need for road and other improvements, they said.

The unusually large audience at the monthly breakfast listened and then questioned the officials in detail.

The consensus after an hour of discussion was said to be that a modern-day renaissance—bringing to mind Europe's 14th to 16th centuries—may be on the horizon here. NOTING ENTERPRISE Zone planning, port and Foreign Trade

Popcorn.

To most people the word brings to mind the lines at a movie concession stand, where person after person cuts off jumbo-size containers of the popped stuff.

But to at least one Granite City resident, the word brings to mind blueberry, sour cream and chives, and butter rum, to name a few.

Carolyn Kopp, the owner of a newly opened popcorn shop called The Korn Barn, thinks of those words because her shop specializes in gourmet popcorn featured in 27 flavors.

The store, located at 5 Nameeki Village Shopping Center, offers not only a variety of flavors, but a variety of containers for popcorn lovers.

Patrons may purchase the snack in bags, decorative tins or buy it in bulk amounts.

The price of the item depends on the type of popcorn and container requested.

The least expensive popcorn is termed gourmet, which for purists, is the only kind of popcorn there is. The item is freshly popped in coconut oil and lightly seasoned with salt.

Those a little less conservative, might purchase one of the savory flavors. For this process, flavoring salt is shaken on top of the fresh popcorn.

This category includes barbeque, cheddar cheese, nacho cheese, pizza, sour cream and chives, and taco flavors.

Those who are more attuned to sweet things probably would prefer the glazed popcorn, which is the most expensive.

To make the glazed product, the popcorn is added to a basic mix of sugar, water and flavoring. The glaze is coated on the popcorn in the corn treat center.

Flavors in this category include amaretto, banana, blueberry, bubble gum, butter rum, caramel, cherry, chocolate, cream soda, grape, green apple, honey, pina colada, pineapple, red cinnamon, spicy cinnamon, strawberry, tangerine, tutti frutti and watermelon.

For those a little squeamish at the sound of some of the flavors, a free sample is offered. The results of the taste test usually prove agreeable.

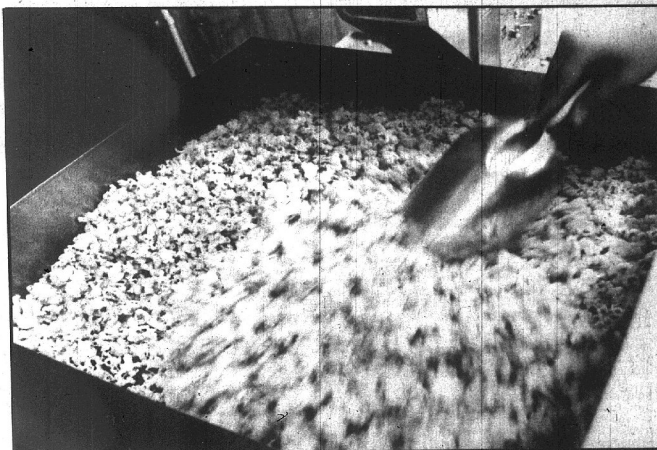

Kopp said she will feature a flavor of the month beginning in May. The first feature flavor planned is rootbeer.

Customer appeal for the novelty has hit all age groups. The shop is the only of its kind in Madison County.

Kopp hopes persons having a hard time picking out a present for the person who has everything will give her place a kernel of thought.

BUTTERFLY PORK CHOPS become a premium dish when prepared with a wine and mustard glaze and garnished with simple vegetables.

Pork

Pork and vegetables bring out the flavor

Spring meals do not have to take on the characteristics of the annual school play. There is more fun to cooking, as well as playing, these days.

New vegetables — or perhaps they are old, friendly types reappearing with more snap, crackle and flavor — become favorites again. The remembrance of what fresh asparagus tastes like becomes a reality. Instead of a memory. Or spinach salad takes on renewed zest as its crispness permeates a distinctive crunch.

Meats that have been sidetracked by winter soups and stews on the menu are renewable acquaintances, too. Saunter across to the meat counter and look for old-time favorites. Try them again the way Grandmother served them or try a new twist.

These recipes call for butterfly pork chops cut away from the bone. Actually, the same recipes for boneless meat can be used as for bone-in. Butterfly chops come in various thicknesses so cooking times, obviously, will vary, with the thinner chop receiving a shorter cooking time.

In Pork Smittane, butterfly chops are sauteed in butter, then sauced with demiglace thickened by flour and flavored by wine and mustard. It is written for two servings, but can be doubled for a larger family. It is, ready in less than 30 minutes.

Golden Rice-Stuffed Pork Chops take advantage of the thickness and tenderness of the meat to offer a layer of light raisin-studded rice.

Pork Smittane 2 boneless butterfly chops, 1/2-inch thick

3 tbsp. flour
1/2 tsp. pepper
2 tbsp. butter or margarine
1 tbsp. finely chopped green onion
1/2 cup dry white wine
1 tsp. Dijon-style mustard
1/4 cup cold water
1 1/2 tsp. flour
Fresh tarragon sprigs, if desired
Steamed pea pods, carrots, and water chestnuts if desired
Pound pork with a meat mallet to 1/4-inch thickness. Combine 3 tablespoons flour and pepper; dredge chops lightly in flour mixture.

In a medium skillet melt butter; add chops and brown on both sides. Remove chops and set aside. Add green onion to drippings; cook over medium heat until crisp-tender. Stir in wine and mustard. Return chops to skillet. Cover and reduce heat to medium-low. Simmer 15 to 18 minutes or until done.

Remove chops and set aside. Combine water and 1/2 teaspoons flour, mixing to dissolve flour. Add flour mixture to drippings. Cook over medium-high heat until thickened and bubbly, stirring constantly.

Return chops to skillet. Cover and cook 2 to 3 minutes or until heated through. Garnish with fresh tarragon sprigs and serve with steamed pea pods, carrots and water chestnuts, if desired.

Makes 2 servings.

Golden Rice-Stuffed Pork Chops

4 boneless butterfly chops, 1-inch thick
3/4 cup water
1/2 cup apricot nectar
1/4 cup light raisins
1 tsp. brown sugar
1/2 tsp. curry powder
1 cup cooked rice

1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. paprika
For sauce, in a small saucepan combine water, apricot, nectar, raisins, brown sugar and curry. Bring to boil; reduce heat and simmer 15 to 20 minutes or until liquid is reduced to about 1/2 cup. Drain, reserving sauce.

For stuffing, combine the raisins, rice, 1/2 tsp. salt and paprika.

With a sharp knife cut an opening in each side of chop. Cutting parallel to surface, begin near center and cut toward fat edge but not to or through the edge. Spoon about 2 tablespoons of the stuffing in each pocket.

Place chops on unheated rack in broiler pan. Broil 6 inches from heat about 15 minutes on each side. Season with the remaining salt and brush with the reserved sauce. Broil chops 5 minutes more or until done.

Makes 4 servings.

Short sweet treats from around the kitchen

Omelets in a hurry

Spray 10-inch skillet with a cooking spray. Beat together 4 eggs and 1 can undiluted cream of mushroom soup. Pour into skillet; cook over medium heat. When mixture is set but still shiny, remove from heat and serve. Makes 4 servings.

Slick chick shows

Combine diced cooked white meat of poultry (chicken or turkey), diced celery, chopped walnuts, seedless grapes and Clementine or tangerine sections. Toss with mayonnaise flavored with thawed frozen orange concentrate and grated ginger. This also may be made with ham instead of poultry.

Steak salad

Combine 2 oz. lean, cooked steak or roast sliced into julienne strips; 1 small cooked potato, diced; ¼ cup sliced mushrooms; about 4 cherry tomatoes; salt and pepper to taste; and 3 tablespoons creamy onion dressing. Refrigerate until time to serve. Spoon onto lettuce leaves for 1 to enjoy.

Warm party snacks

Crisp potato chips or crackers, about 30 seconds to 1 minute in a microwave oven for a tasty treat when company is due.

Popcorn makes a quick and easy party snack when prepared in a microwave. Be sure to use a microwave popcorn popper or buy commercially packaged microwave popcorn.

Fruit on a stick

For a healthful child's snack, skewer orange or tangerine wedges with pineapple chunks, strawberries and grapes. This fruit-salad-on-a-stick is easy to eat. Great for lunchboxes and picnics also, this assortment will not discolor.

Fresh fish sauce

Combine ½ cup dairy sour cream, ½ cup mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 2 teaspoons chopped green onion, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon crushed dill weed, and a generous dash bottled hot pepper sauce. Mix thoroughly. Chill at least one hour to blend flavors. Makes ¾ cup. Use on fish or vegetables.

Curried lamb

4 tbs. flour
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. pepper
1½ lb. lamb, cut into 1-inch cubes
2 tbs. oil
1 cup sliced onions
1 clove garlic, minced
1 cup beef broth
2 tsp. curry powder
½ cup chopped tart apple
1 tbs. raisins, if desired
Water
Combine 2 tablespoons flour with salt and pepper. Toss lamb in flour mixture to coat well.

In large skillet, brown lamb in oil until well browned on all sides. Add onions and garlic; cook until onions are tender.

Stir in broth and curry. Bring to boil. Reduce heat; cook, covered, over low heat 1 hour or until meat is fork-tender. Add apples and raisins. Mix remaining 2 tablespoons flour in a small amount of water. Blend into skillet. Cook, stirring until sauce thickens.

Serve over rice with a selection of accompaniments such as chutney, coconut, sautéed peanuts or chopped hard-cooked egg.

Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Magic mousse

2 cups unsweetened cocoa powder
¼ cup unsalted butter, melted
½ cup brewed strong coffee
5 eggs, separated
½ cup light cream
¼ cup sugar
1 tsp. vanilla extract or 2 tsp. dark rum, brandy or Kirsch

Whipped cream, sweetened to taste, for garnish, if desired
In the top of a double boiler, over hot, not simmering, water, blend together cocoa with butter, coffee, egg yolks and light cream. Stir constantly until thick. Cool.

In a bowl, beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Beat in sugar until stiff, glossy peaks form. Fold in the chocolate mixture and vanilla or liquor.

Spoon into individual glass dishes or pots de creme. Chill at least 8 hours.

To serve, garnish with sweetened whipped cream, if desired.

Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Stuffed onion salad

4 to 6 large sweet onions
2 tbs. deviled ham
1 tbs. chopped pimiento
1 (8 oz.) pkg. cream cheese
1 tsp. dry mustard
¼ tsp. salt
Dash of pepper
Peel onions. With apple corer remove center of onions; reserve these portions for use in other dishes.

Beat cream cheese until soft and creamy. Blend in deviled ham, pimiento, dry mustard, salt and pepper.

Fill centers of onions with mixture. Chill several hours or until cheese centers are firm.

To serve, slice onions and place on lettuce leaves.

Serves 6 to 8.

Boneless meat

Boneless cuts like a beef top round or sirloin, or flank steak, are easy to stuff. They also make an attractive, nutritious and delicious entree for special get-togethers.

To make a pocket in the meat, cut parallel to the meat's surface, midway through the width of the steak. Extend the cut for the pocket the length and width of the steak, but not through the other sides. Then stuff the pocket with a favorite vegetable or rice filling. To hold in the stuffing, secure the open side with wooden picks which are removed just before carving.

Cut dried fruit

The next time a recipe calls for chopped dried fruit, treat kitchen shears with cooking spray before snipping the fruit. If using a knife to chop, spray the knife.

Strawberries sweet

Whipped cream flavored with liqueur becomes an elegant ingredient for desserts. Whip 1 cup whipping cream and sweeten to taste. Fold in 1 to 2 tablespoons of a favorite liqueur.

Turn simple strawberries or other fresh fruit into a special treat with this garnish, or use to top after-dinner coffee and compatibly flavored crepes or pies.

Meatloaf with spice

In large bowl, combine 1 cup bread crumbs with 1 package (1½ oz.) spaghetti sauce with mushrooms and ¾ cup (from an 8 oz. can) tomato sauce; blend well. Add 2 beaten eggs, 1½ pounds ground beef and 1 teaspoon seasoned salt. Mix lightly but thoroughly with fork.

Shape into oval loaf; place on shallow baking pan. Brush with remaining ¼ cup tomato sauce. Bake, uncovered, at 350° about 1 hour. Let stand 10 minutes before slicing.

Makes 6 servings.

PETER MARSHALL

'La Cage aux Folles' presented at the Fox

'La Cage aux Folles,' winner of six Tony Awards last season, including one for best musical of the year, will be presented by The Mundy Fox Theatre, now through April 28.

Co-stars will be Peter Marshall and Keene Curtis. Marshall will star as Georges, the owner and emcee of the lavish St. Tropez nightclub 'La Cage aux Folles.' Curtis portrays Alain, Georges' mentor and the glamorous, flamboyant star Zaza at the club.

Marshall is well-known to television audiences as the host of 'Hollywood Squares' for 15 years, during which time he won five Emmy Awards. He also starred on Broadway in 'Skyscraper' and has performed in such musicals as 'Bye Bye Birdie,' 'High Button Shoes,' and 'Anything Goes.' He starred as Professor Harold Hill in 'The Mundy's production of 'The Music Man' in 1971.

Curtis, by playing Zaza, will be making a dramatic change from one of his best-known roles, that of Daddy Warbucks in productions of 'Annie.' He received a Tony Award in 1983 for his performance in the musical 'The Rothschilds,' and has guest-starred on numerous television series including 'M.A.S.H.,' 'The Jeffersons,' 'Three's Company,' 'Start to Start,' and his own series, 'The Magician.'

The multi-Tony Award-winning show has attracted much media attention, notably because of a chorus line, called Les Cagelles, that is composed mostly of men. Music for 'La Cage...' is the work of Jerry Herman, creator of the music in such other hit musicals as 'Hello, Dolly!,' 'Mame,' 'Milk and Honey,' and 'The Best of Times.' 'I Am What I Am' and 'Masculinity' Herman won one of the Tonys for best score. The book is by Harvey Fierstein, who also won one of the Tonys for best book.

The show is based on Jean Poiret's farce of the same title, which ran in Paris from 1972 to 1980, and a recent movie of the same name that is reportedly the most successful foreign language film ever shown in the United States.

CASA sponsors voice contest

Out of more than 900 inquiries from around the world, 20 young singers have been invited to go to St. Louis in May to compete in the Mae M. Whitaker International Competition for Voice, sponsored by the St. Louis Conservatory of Music.

The competition will be held over a four-day period, May 14-17, at CASA — The St. Louis Conservatory and Schools for the Arts.

All sessions, open to the public at a nominal charge, will take place in the CASA Main Auditorium, 560 Trinity Avenue at Delmar, University City, starting at 1 p.m.

The voice competition is the second Mae M. Whitaker Competition, a biennial international event for aspiring young solo artists, made possible by a grant of $250,000 from the Whitaker Charitable Foundation. Urban C. Bergbauer is trustee.

Judges for the voice competitions, all renowned as performing artists and teachers throughout the music world, are singers Birgit Nilsson of Stockholm, Gerard Souzay of Paris and Eleanor Steber of New York; Irving Kolodin of New York, author of many books and program annotations and former critic of the Saturday Review; and Edward Zambora, head of the voice department at the St. Louis Conservatory, who is known for having trained more Metropolitan Opera audition winners than any other American teacher.

Official pianist for the competition is John Wustman, faculty member at the University of Illinois, Urbana, who regularly conducts master classes in vocal literature at the St. Louis Conservatory and is accompanist for Luciano Pavarotti, Elisabeth Schwartzkopf, Leontyne Price and others of equal stature.

"In the past five months, we received 925 inquiries about the Whitaker Competition from seven foreign countries and 43 states," said James N. Cain, vice president for performance activities at CASA and administrator for the Whitaker competition.

The number of applicants who completed the application and audition tape requirements totaled 123.

From that number, the top 20 were selected through a concentrated screening process conducted by a panel of preliminary judges: Zambora; Cain; Joel Reizen, dean of the Conservatory; and Stephen Lord, Conservatory vocal coach and music/art director for the Conservatory's Opera Studio. He also heads the music staff and serves as artistic consultant for Opera Theatre of St. Louis.

Cash prizes and performance awards await the winners, who will receive $7,500, $5,000 and $2,500 for first, second and third place.

In addition, the first prize winner is awarded a solo appearance with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, Opera Theatre of St. Louis, and the North Carolina Symphony; a solo performance at the St. Louis Conservatory; and a recital at Alice Tully Hall, Lincoln Center, New York. Second and third place finishers also receive solo appearances at the St. Louis Conservatory.

INTERRUPTED SERVICE can be a problem, Illinois Bell is warning area residents. Technicians like Mike Berry often work around the clock to restore telephone service after buried phone cables are damaged by contractors or home garden diggers. Diggers who do not alert local utilities before they dig can be billed for the cost of repairs. Illinois Bell is waging a public information campaign this spring, urging: "Pick up your phone before you pick up your shovel. The service and money you save may be your own." The place to call (24 hours a day and free of charge) is JULIE (Joint Utility Locating Information for Excavators) at 1-800-892-0123.

Amstead records higher income

Amstead Industries has just reported that net income for the six months ended March 31 was $10.3 million, or 95 cents per share, up $8.2 million, or 76 cents per share, from the comparable year-ago period. Sales in the six months totaled $304.6 million, up $26.4 million, or 10 percent from last year.

Amstead owns the American Steel Foundries plant in Granite City.

Robert H. Wellington, Amstead president, said income increased in all three produce categories — construction and building, general industrial and railroad — primarily because of higher sales volume. He added that modest improvements in selling prices also contributed to the change.

In the three months ended March 31, income was $2.4 million, up slightly from the comparable quarter last year. Sales were $145.9 million, down $4 million, or 3 percent. Results in the March quarter are typically affected unfavorably by seasonally low construction and building activities.

Sales of railroad products were $117.7 million, an increase of 14 percent due to higher repair needs and an increase in the nation's freight car building rate.

Amstead's financial position remains strong. Working capital at March 31, including cash and short-term investments of $62.1 million, was $192.8 million, up 26 percent from a year ago. The ratio of current assets to current liabilities was 3.4 to 1. The company operated without incurring long-term debt.

Capital expenditures in the six months were $5.9 million. Wellington said the total for fiscal 1985 is expected to be about $15 million, excluding the intended acquisition of Baltimore Aircraft Co., announced on April 1. The spending will be for modest capacity increases and productivity improvements for several product lines, as well as for normal replacements.

New freight car building by the railroad industry, although ahead of last year, has not increased significantly.

Sales of railroad components for repairs and maintenance are also ahead of last year and further improvement is expected in the last six months of the fiscal year.

Lawyers help legal aid

The Madison County Bar Association has announced a donation of $5,000 to the Land of Lincoln Legal Assistance Foundation. Bar President William S. Beatty said the 250-member association, composed of attorneys practicing in Madison County, boosted its gift 66 percent over the 1984 contribution.

Joseph Bartylak, executive director of Land of Lincoln, expressed gratitude for the support by the private Bar of Madison County. Recently, he said, legal aid programs both locally and nationally have experienced cutbacks in federal funding. Further reductions are expected this year.

The donation will be used to hire part-time help in the Madison County office of the legal aid association to facilitate delivery of legal services to the poor. Last year, the agency served 2,500 Madison County residents, and had contact with twice that number.

In Round Robin Tourney

Warriors beat previously undefeated Raiders

By JOE THOMPSON
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Four were clunked by pitched balls. Two of the bruised batters ended up scoring, while another prevented a run from scoring.

One baserunner raced all the way from first to second on a DOUBLE. After rounding second, he stopped and went back to the base. Seeing the error of his ways, he then trotted into third base.

Meanwhile, the hitter who had hit the double had stopped at first. But when the runner, who should have went to third base in the first place finally did, the player who hit the double scampered into second. See, he noticed no one was covering the base.

Now, when the pitcher saw the player who hit the double running to second base, he hurriedly threw the ball trying to cut him down. But the ball went into centerfield. The pitcher didn't notice that no one was covering.

That's when the runner who was on third base (finally) pedaled across home plate, which he probably should have done in the first place, except, of course, he had stopped at second.

It's also a wonder lightning didn't strike, although the wind was blowing mightily hard.

It took a lot for the Quincy Notre Dame Raiders to lose their first game of the season, but they did Friday night in the first round of the 11th annual Granite City Round Robin Baseball Tournament.

The Warriors did the deed, dumping Quincy, 7-6, in eight innings. "They were 11-0," jubilant Warrior coach Bob Stegemeier told his team afterward. "Now they're 11-1."

The victory improved the Warriors to 8-7 going into the second and final day of tournament play Saturday.

Also in the tournament was Christian Brothers College (CBC) and Normal. Each team was to play each other once.

In other play Friday, CBC got past Normal, 9-3.

As certain as the drive Dennis Gaudreault knocked into the gap in right centerfield in the top half of the eighth inning to score Fred Becker with the winning run and the late inning power pitching of Eric Gray, the Warriors and Raiders did have their more tame moments.

You want slugging? There was clean-up swinger Shane Cole. He doubled home Bill Moore in the first inning, the big blow in a three-run frame. Moore had led the game off with a bunt single.

It was muscle swinging by Kurt Hylla and Pat Cathey. Both laced long fly balls into right field. Though battered down into outs by the strong wind, the balls were hit far enough to score runners from third base.

Hylla's sacrifice fly was in the first scoring Chomko, who reached on one of Quincy's uncharacteristic five errors. In fact, Chomko made it to first on another error in the seventh. He scored on Cathey's fly ball out, at the time the go-ahead run.

You want sparkling pitching? There was the hurling of Tim Stanton, who relieved for starter Jeff Zukas with two outs in the last of the second. After taking their 3-0 first-inning lead, Quincy surged ahead, 4-3, when Zukas faltered giving up five walks.

Stanton allowed two hits and one run in five innings before giving way to flame-thrower Eric Gray in the last of the seventh and the Warriors holding a one run lead. Raiders were on second and third with one out.

Facing Gray was the Raiders' Jim Goerlich, a heavy duty slugger. Goerlich measured up to his advanced billing by bashing a sacrifice fly ball into center field, scoring Dave Effrein to tie the game.

Lamented Raider coach Bob Winstead, "Thirty feet any other way and it would have been out of here."

Not to be. There were a lot of things that didn't go the way of the Raiders. Namely some of the piteous chases thrown by starting hurler Eric Zanger.

Randy Burgess got plunked in the back. Cole was hit on the helmet. Fred Becker was zonked on the deirre, and Jim Chomko was nicked on the foot.

"It was a contagious thing or something," said Cole. "He (Zanger) didn't do it on purpose. I know that," said Stegemeier.

No he didn't. Becker carried a bruise on his hip along with the winning run after stealing second, preceding Gaudreault's double.

Chomko was also hit in the eighth frame, but it prevented a Warrior run from scoring. The ball was heading toward the backstop and would have scored Gaudreault from third base when it hit Chomko. Gaudreault was waved back to third. He ended up being stranded.

It was, however, when Burgess was smacked by a pitch in the third inning when the game reached its zenith.

Burgess' being hit put himself on first and advanced Cole, who had singled, to second. There were no outs and the Warriors trailed, 5-3.

With the Warriors threatening, the spotlight turned to Cathey, who did not disappoint his teammates. The right-handed hitter laced a drive that fell just fair down the right field line.

When the ball skipped past outfielder Rich Hinkamp, Cole and Burgess motored into a high gear.

Cole scored easily. And Burgess? He rounded second base, stopped and then went back to second. That's where he was when Cathey looked up as he rounded first. Surprise.

"I was going to second all the way," said Cathey. "But he (Burgess) was still there."

"I don't know why he went back," said Stegemeier.

What was important, however, is that Burgess finally eased his way to third base. That's where he was when Cathey noticed second base was uncovered and that no one had called time out.

"Very alert play," said Stegemeier of Cathey's baserunning.

As for Burgess, no harm done. "He ended up scoring anyway," pointed out Stegemeier.

There were other reasons Stegemeier cheered. There was the play of Bill Moore at shortstop, who handled six chances flawlessly, one of which he turned into a nifty double play to snuff out a Raider fourth inning rally.

"Bill Moore did a great job," said Stegemeier.

Looking back on big moments, Winstead looked back to the seventh inning, when the Raiders threatened to aist things open. "He had the Ace to bring in," Winstead said.

The ace of Gray. "Tim (Stanton) did a nice job," said Stegemeier.

"But we felt we needed a strikeout in that situation. We felt we needed a hard thrower (Gray)."

While Gray was touched for a sacrifice fly, he struck out the next batter, sending the game into overtime, in which, well, "You saw what he did in the eighth inning," said Stegemeier.

Gray struck out the side. Stegemeier, a big smile on his face, said he didn't know until shortly before the game Quincy was undefeated.

"Greg (Patton, athletic director) didn't tell me," Stegemeier said. And Stegemeier decided against telling his players.

They knew, though. Cathey said he found out in the third inning while chatting with the Raider's first base coach.

"The whole team was psyched up," said Cathey. "We really want to win this tournament."

They took a giant stride in vanquishing Quincy of Notre Dame. This was one time — the first time the thunder wasn't shaken down from the sky.

GCHS finishes third, fourth

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Executive Sports Editor

EDWARDSVILLE — Analyzing the results of Thursday's Second Annual Tiger Relays at Southern Illinois University, the following observations can be made of the Warrior track teams:

1. The Warriors are a good team with the ability to compete with virtually every team in the area, but...

2. ...When it comes to competing with the best teams, the Warriors never really get out of the starting blocks. Against the good ones — like Alton — they compete, but seldom win. In few words, the Warriors have several strong points, but they also have weaknesses. Weaknesses which makes it difficult for them to contend with the really great teams.

"We were hoping for a couple of firsts, but Dan (Alton coach Daugherty) has done so much with his kids. They're so, so tough," said Warrior coach Dave McClain said of Alton.

Then reviewing the results and reflecting on his teams' efforts, McClain found reason for optimism. "At least this time we weren't beat by Cahokia," McClain said.

On Tuesday, two days before the Tiger Relays, the Warriors hosted the Comanches, Cahokia, however, was a rude guest, bettering the Warriors in the meet's final event to clinch the dual meet win, 75-71.

In Thursday's meet, though, things were different. In the boys' sixth-team competition, the Warriors finished fourth. And, while the Warriors and the Comanches were slugging it out to see who would be fourth, Alton literally ran away with the boys' competition.

Racking up 108 points, the Redbirds bettered second place Edwarsville and third place Central by 32 and 34 points respectively. Collinsville was a distant sixth with 22 points.

In the girls' competition, a four-team affair, the Warriors finished third with 43 points, behind Edwarsville with 63 and Central with 32. Conversely to the boys' competition, the Alton girls finished last with 11 points.

All told, the Warrior boys finished the meet without claiming a first-place ribbon. Instead, the Warriors accumulated their points with a few seconds and a lofty amount of thirds, fourths and fifths. Granite City amassed three seconds, four thirds, two fourths and three fifth place finishes.

When considering Alton's near

Warriors, Trojans prepare for county meet

HIGHLAND — Madison will be looking to keep its streak alive here at the annual Madison County track meet this Tuesday.

"We have a good thing going. I just hope the kids have the right attitude going in," said Trojans Coach Charles Steptoe.

Madison, which dominated last year's field winning by 29 points, will be looking to secure its third straight boys' title when the county's eight small schools gather at Highland High School.

Other teams competing in the Green Division are hosted by Madison — include Bethalto, Wood River, Metro East Lutheran of Edwarsville, Highland, Roxana, St. Paul and Triad.

The large schools (Red Division) will meet at SIU-Edwarsville. They include Alton, Edwarsville, Collinsville and Granite City. Preliminaries in the field events begin at 3 p.m. Running prelims start at approximately 3:30 p.m. Tickets are $1 for students and $1.50 for adults.

The Trojans come into the meet on a positive note winning two of their last three meets. Madison's most recent showing was first place at a triangular meet last Tuesday at Red Bank.

"I think this team is just as good as last year's," Steptoe said. "We have a little more experience. We could put it off."

Madison beat out Bethalto 81-51 in last year's county gathering. Wood River finished third with 48 points.

The Trojans could produce several individual titlists. Among Madison's best hopes are Reggie Young (long jump and triple jump), Delarren Young (800) and Rouzell Porter (shot put). Madison also fields some very strong relay teams. In fact, Madison holds Madison County meet marks in the 400, 800 and 1,600 relays.

According to the Timely Times publication, Reggie Young's 44-2 — although not listed in the current edition — ranks as the best triple jump in the state.

Young's best effort in the long jump (26-11) would rank him sixth in the state.

In the 800, Delarren Young's best time (2:03.1) would put him in sixth place, according to the Timely Times latest listing. State qualifying time in the event is 1:39.

"This will be our first big meet since Charleston," Steptoe said. "We will get a good idea of how our marks stand and up."

Steptoe hopes the week off from the Red Bud meet will help heal some nagging injuries. Oliver Walker hurt his knee hitting it on a hurdle. Wilson Howard's smarting with a hip pointer and Mike Taylor has shin splint.

In the girls' competition, Madison brings in a young team. Only three seniors and two juniors are among the upperclassman on the roster. The rest of the squad is freshmen and sophomores.

"For a young team we are progressing beautifully," said Madison coach Lavenia Long. "We are running times now that we haven't been running before until districts."

Long feels the Trojanettes best hopes of placing lie in the relays.

The 400 relay team of Cherri Ware, Gina Griggs, Tammy Deal and Sheila Marshall have a fast time of 52.6.

Madison's 800 relay team have clocked a best of 1:51.7. Members of the team are Ware, Griggs, Lisa Davenport and Angela Harper.

In the 1,600 relay the Trojanettes best time has been 4:24. Harper, Deal and Chelsea Smith are regulars in that race. The opening leg has been run by several different girls this year.

Madison placed third at last year's county meet behind Highland and Roxana.

"Highland is pretty strong again. Long said assessing the talent. "They have an awful lot of depth."

The Lady Bulldogs blitzed the field last year totalling 105 points. Roxana was the closest team and the Shells finished with 38 points.

In large schools, Granite City's girls are the defending champs, but Warrior coach Dave McClain feels Edwarsville is the team to beat this year.

Granite City edged the Tigers 93-85 in 1984.

The Warriors' best chances of a first place finish is senior Debbie Brandt in the discus. A fourth place finisher in the state as a junior, Brandt's best throw is 128-feet.

Terri Seiph could also place for Granite City in the disc. Her best effort is 109 feet. Both compete in the shot put, too.

The meet will also mark the return of the Warriors' Lora Wiser who has been out the past six weeks with ligament damage in her ankle. Wiser is slated to run the two-mile.

On the boys' level, Alton is favored for the team title, especially after the Redbirds impressive showing at the Cougar Relays.

Among the Warriors who could walk away with individual honors are Scott Cant (high hurdles). His best time to date is 15.3. Jeff Gray best time in the low hurdles is 41.7.

In the high jump, Cant has cleared 6-8 while Eric Graves has leaped 6-6. The meet record in the event is 6-9 set by Alton's Larry Smith.

Graves holds the meet record in the long jump (22-9). His best leap has been 21-3.

"You always want your kids to do well at the county meet," said McClain, "because his meet leads you into the conference and district meets. So, it is an important one."

FOREHAND DRIVE. Dave Aerne, a member of Granite City High School's tennis team, returns this shot to Belleville West's Mark Hoppenjans during their Southwestern Conference match Thursday. Aerne dropped the match to his Belleville opponent 1-6, 0-6, but his team's victory didn't fore any better as the Warriors' 5-2 overcame the Devils' 3-0.

GCHS Tennis Maroons end Warriors string at two

By GREGG OCHOA

GRANITE CITY — Belleville West gave tennis Coach Bob Kaiser a nice birthday present Thursday afternoon.

In a battle of defending sectional champions, the Maroons shutout Granite City 9-0 and improved their conference record to 3-0 in the Southwestern Conference and 10-1 overall.

The loss snapped a two-match winning streak for the Warriors who had pounded Roxana and East St. Louis.

"This is perhaps one of the best teams I've had in a while," said Kaiser, who has been at West for 12 years. "There is a lot of talent out there. Teams like this don't come around that often."

But Kaiser is no stranger to winning tennis. In his tenure at the Belleville school, the Maroons have had only one losing season.

"That was the best team in the area," said Granite City Coach Dick Harmon in summing up the outcome.

However, the Warriors had their opportunities. But Belleville West just wore them down. A perfect example was in the third singles match.

"I thought Jerry Lakin played well at first," Harmon noted. "He had his kid (Trevor Parker) down 5-2 and 40-love but winds up losing 5-7, 0-6."

Such was the Warriors' fortunes. But Lakin wasn't alone. Belleville West swept every match in two sets. In fact, they dominated so much Granite City won just 27 games in the nine, two-set matches that were played.

West, which qualified for the state tournament a year ago, is particularly strong in its No. 1 and No. 2 singles positions held down by senior Bill Alvey and sophomore Mark Hoppenjans, respectively.

Alvey struggled at times with the Warriors Rob Lombardi before winning 6-2, 6-4 in the first singles match.

"Lombardi is a real fine junior player," said Kaiser. "He should do well for Granite City."

However, experience helped Alvey, who has played first singles since his sophomore year. As a freshman, Alvey played second singles behind Todd Meyer. As a doubles combo, Meyer and Dan Boatman placed fifth at the state meet a few years back.

"Bill has improved his game from several standpoints over last year," said Kaiser. "But I think what makes him such a good player is that he hustles after every ball. He gets to some balls that other players might give up on."

In second singles, Hoppenjans downed the Warriors' Dave Aerne in two sets 6-1, 6-0.

"If you have those strong one and two singles players, you can win the rest of the way through. Those one and two players give you a sure three points everytime out."

Hoppenjans is one of four sophomores to crack the West line-up this year. The others are Neil Nersisian, Paul Wagner and Bob Palmer, all of whom play singles.

"That's very unusual," said Kaiser. "Usually you have one or two good underclassmen. But last year was one of those rare classes."

The sophomores proved to be tough for the Maroons and even tougher on Granite City.

Nersisian downed Chris Cheneyvert 6-1, 6-0 and Wagner and Nersisian stopped Matt Krekovich and Jim Johannpeter 6-4, 6-1.

In doubles competition, Alvey and Hoppenjans combined to down Lombardi and Lakin 6-2, 6-3. Craig Mentzer and Parker beat Aerne and Cheneyvert 6-1, 6-0 and Wagner and Nersisian stopped Matt Krekovich and Jim Johannpeter 6-4, 6-1.

"We are still inexperienced," said Kaiser. "But I thought Lombardi played well today and my two freshmen (Krekovich and Johannpeter) are coming along."

Traditionally, because many players don't play over the winter months, it takes Granite City awhile to start clicking.

"We normally play better after the Belleville East Invitational (set for April 26-27)."

"Dick's teams usually start off kind of slow," Kaiser continued. "But they come around at the end of the season and are pretty strong."

The loss, the first in three matches, leaves Granite City with a 3-4 record (1-2 in the Southwestern Conference).

West's only loss in 11 outings to Blooming was a 5-4 decision to Blooming.

O'Fallon Tech blasts Venice

By JOE THOMPSON

VENICE — Sophomore Orlando Love blasted his second home run of the season for the Venice High Red Devils Thursday, but it came with nobody on base.

If there were three runners on, the Red Devils would have had that many more runs. Even the additional runs, however, would not have changed the outcome and thus not altered Love's glum mood any afterward.

The Red Devils came up short for the fourth time in four outings, failing to O'Fallon Tech in its season opener, 8-4. Love, who also singled in the game, could only shake his head in dismay, despite his power feat.

"You got to win win first," he said. "I could go for seven and win. That would be cool, instead of going two for three and we lose it."

It was their gloves that betrayed the Red Devils this time. They erred eight times, gifting O'Fallon Tech with six unearned runs.

The majority of the miscues came in the first two innings. O'Fallon Tech scored three runs in the first and three more in the second.

Wildred Wigfall was the starting hurler. Watching pop flies drop in the outfield and singles misplayed into three-base errors was a pleasant sight.

"That hurt us," said Wigfall, who gave way to Love after pitching to one batter in the top of the third.

Wigfall muscled a triple in the third for what was the Red Devils' only extra base blow. If not for misstep rounding first base, Wigfall might have stretched his three-bagger another notch.

"I hit the base with my left foot instead of my right, and slipped a little bit," said Wigfall. If not for that, "I could've made it," he said.

Besides his triple, Wigfall also singled. The hit started what looked like a promising fifth inning. After Wigfall reached base, Tyrone Treadway and Terry Wiley walked to load the bases.

The inning ended scoreless, however, when Wigfall was unsuccessful in trying to steal home plate.

The Red Devils rallied for two runs in the second and two more in the sixth.

Red Devils coach Clinton Harris, Jr., was delighted with his team's play following its rocky start. "The first two innings hurt us. Other than that, we played some ball," he said.

The Red Devils struck for six hits. Carl Townsend, smacked an RBI single and John Williams also hit safely.

In the girls' competition, the Warriors fared better than their masculine counterparts, but not by much. Debbie Brandt, who tossed the discus to a fourth-place finish in last year's state meet, was the Warriors' only first-place finisher Thursday.

Brandt's throw of 127-feet 5-inches bettered her state effort last year by 4-feet 11-inches. But her effort Thursday, despite the marked improvement over her state throw last year, wouldn't have improved her standings in the 1984 state meet.

Last year's state discus champ, Debbie Rutkowski of Oak Lawn (Richards), threw the disc 132-feet 10-inches.

In addition to Brandt's first-place finish in the discus, the Warrior senior also finished third in the shot put with an effort totalling 33-feet 9-inches.

Outside of the Brandt's efforts, the Warrior girls managed four more seconds, four thirds, two fourths and one fifth.

"Debbie was our one real bright spot," McClain said. "I expect her to be throwing around 130 (feet) anytime."

"It was a good, tough meet, but not as tough as the Mineral Area Meet or as a district or sectional meet," McClain said.

"I think it helped our people to realize how hard they've got to work if they're going to qualify for state," McClain said. "It brought some of them back down to earth."

McClain said hinting the meet had a humbling effect on some.

If Thursday's meet were a state qualifying event, Granite City's boys would have only qualified three events — the distance medley, the shot put (Evan Ellsworth), and the pole vault (Rich Moore). And, all those by virtue of their second-place finish.

The girls' qualifying would have included the two-mile relay team, the 400 meter relay team (Marianne Finn), the distance medley, the high jump (Loretta Cox), and Brandt in the discus.

The Warriors are idle until Tuesday when they journey back to SIUE for the Madison County Meet. Preliminary action begins at 3 p.m.

domination of first place finishes — the Redbirds had six blue ribbons — it's easy to see how it won the meet. Those six first-place finishes alone accounted for 60 of the Redbirds' 108 points.

In addition to the firsts, the Redbirds amassed three seconds, one third, two fourths and one fifth.

Coult Alton's six first-places and second place Centralia's three, that only left three other possible first places for the remaining four teams.

But even those weren't dispersed judiciously. Cahokia proved to be the greedy one, claiming the remaining three first places, leaving Edwardsville and Collinsville, along with the Warriors, without a first place.

In the girls' competition, the Warriors fared better than their masculine counterparts, but not by much. Debbie Brandt, who tossed the discus to a fourth-place finish in last year's state meet, was the Warriors' only first-place finisher Thursday.

domination of first place finishes — the Redbirds had six blue ribbons — it's easy to see how it won the meet. Those six first-place finishes alone accounted for 60 of the Redbirds' 108 points.

In addition to the firsts, the Redbirds amassed three seconds, one third, two fourths and one fifth.

Coult Alton's six first-places and second place Centralia's three, that only left three other possible first places for the remaining four teams.

But even those weren't dispersed judiciously. Cahokia proved to be the greedy one, claiming the remaining three first places, leaving Edwardsville and Collinsville, along with the Warriors, without a first place.

In the girls' competition, the Warriors fared better than their masculine counterparts, but not by much. Debbie Brandt, who tossed the discus to a fourth-place finish in last year's state meet, was the Warriors' only first-place finisher Thursday.

Brandt's throw of 127-feet 5-inches bettered her state effort last year by 4-feet 11-inches. But her effort Thursday, despite the marked improvement over her state throw last year, wouldn't have improved her standings in the 1984 state meet.

Last year's state discus champ, Debbie Rutkowski of Oak Lawn (Richards), threw the disc 132-feet 10-inches.

In addition to Brandt's first-place finish in the discus, the Warrior senior also finished third in the shot put with an effort totalling 33-feet 9-inches.

Outside of the Brandt's efforts, the Warrior girls managed four more seconds, four thirds, two fourths and one fifth.

"Debbie was our one real bright spot," McClain said. "I expect her to be throwing around 130 (feet) anytime."

"It was a good, tough meet, but not as tough as the Mineral Area Meet or as a district or sectional meet," McClain said.

"I think it helped our people to realize how hard they've got to work if they're going to qualify for state," McClain said. "It brought some of them back down to earth."

McClain said hinting the meet had a humbling effect on some.

If Thursday's meet were a state qualifying event, Granite City's boys would have only qualified three events — the distance medley, the shot put (Evan Ellsworth), and the pole vault (Rich Moore). And, all those by virtue of their second-place finish.

The girls' qualifying would have included the two-mile relay team, the 400 meter relay team (Marianne Finn), the distance medley, the high jump (Loretta Cox), and Brandt in the discus.

The Warriors are idle until Tuesday when they journey back to SIUE for the Madison County Meet. Preliminary action begins at 3 p.m.

Petri signs Stars' fifth player

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Executive Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — Granite City Center soccer coach Larry Petri came another step closer Tuesday toward fulfilling the promise he made to himself three months ago when he began recruiting for his 1985 team.

With just seven returnees from last year's squad, Petri set a goal of signing 18 freshmen to this year's Stars soccer squad. The Stars' coach termed this a building year for GCC soccer as he seeks to improve upon last year's disappointing 6-11 record.

Earlier this month, Petri initiated those first steps of that building process as he signed three, his first of the season. Last week he signed another and Tuesday he signed his fifth kicker, John Finnman of Collinsville.

"I'm doing alright on recruiting," Petri said Tuesday. "I set a goal of 18, realizing we may just get 12. But honestly at this point, it looks like we may be looking at something in the middle, about 15."

Although five recruits is a long way from 15, Petri, apparently, is not concerned that he hasn't signed more.

"We've got a lot of irons in the fire," Petri said. "We're very close to signing a few more and still working on others. When it's all over we should be up around that 15 mark."

Petri's latest recruit, Finnman, prepped at Metro-East Lutheran last season for coach Ed Sievers.

A halfback, Finnman, who stands 6-feet tall and weighs 165 pounds, was a three-year starter for the Knights. Producing 11 goals and 19 assists last year, his biggest contribution to the MELH squad, he said, was his assists.

"That's where I'm strongest. That's my biggest asset. I think I'm a good team player."

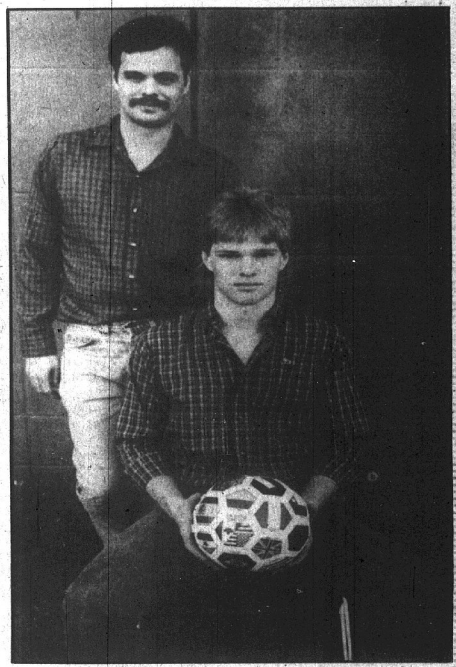

It was Finnman's offensive output which landed him a spot on the Illini Gateway All-Conference team and later earned him special mention on an All-Area team. And, it was those honors which ultimately brought Petri and Finnman together.

"Basically, it boils down to two things," Petri said. "We need a mid-fielder-forward with the ability to score goals. I've seen him play and I feel he helps fill that bill." Petri said.

"And second," Petri said, "and this isn't the most important thing, but he's an East Sider. I'm really happy to find someone with the ability on this side of the river. He should really help the team." Petri said.

Thus far, Finnman is the only Southwestern Illinois kicker committed to the Stars' soccer program.

In addition to Finnman, who plans to major in business at the junior college, Petri signed Rob Fafoglio, a 5-

NEW RECRUIT. Granite City Center soccer coach Larry Petri stands behind his latest recruit, John Finnman of Collinsville. Finnman, the Stars' fifth recruit of the season, played high school soccer at Metro-East Lutheran High School in Edwardsville. Petri, who anticipates signing several more athletes, begins his third season as the Stars' coach.

Fafoglio, who helped the Mid-State team to a second-place finish in their age group of the Prairie State Games, is the son of Otto and Edris Fafoglio.

Finnman is the son of John and Mildred Finnman of Collinsville.

Deer permits due April 30

SPRINGFIELD — Deer permit application forms for the 1985 season are now available, according to Conservation Director Michael Witte. People who applied for a permit last year should soon be receiving a pre-printed application in the mail, he added.

The 1985 Illinois firearm deer season will extend over two weekends: Nov. 15-17, and Dec. 15-16. Application forms are still being accepted through April 30 for the computerized lottery which will be held after the applications are processed.

Application forms for firearm and archery permits may be picked up at the DOC's Permit Office, 524 S. Second St., Springfield, or the DOC regional offices in Alton, Benton, Sterling, Spring Grove, Champaign, and at the Chicago office, State of Illinois Building, 100 W. Randolph St.

Firearm deer hunting is allowed in all counties except Cook, DuPage, Kane and Lake. Witte said. Counties are allocated via the lottery system.

Witte reminded hunters that firearm permit applications must be postmarked before midnight, April 30 to qualify.

Persons applying for a permit must enclose an individual $15 personal check or money order payable to the Department of Conservation, along with the appropriate 1985 application form.

Hunters applying as a group, must complete all applications identically. The first and second county choices or hunt areas must be the same for all hunters in the group or the entire group will be rejected, Witte said. The group leader should be the same on each application form.

Illinois landowners who own 40 acres or more and tenants who rent 40 acres or more of farmland may apply for free or paid landowner tenant deer hunting permits, he said. Applicants for these special permits must document their tenancy or ownership.
